FOREWORD

In years to come, this HANDLIAN will serve as a memory-book, a record of the benefits and pleasures which we, the Class of 1944, have derived from our school life.

We have chosen as the theme of our illustrations Gremlins, not because they have any tangible connection to our activities at Handley, but rather to remind us that just as Gremlins are a product of the war, so this twenty-third edition of the HANDLIAN is also a product of the abilities and combined efforts of a class graduating in time of war.

DEDICATION

We, the Class of 1944, dedicate our HANDLIAN to the man who, as our sponsor when the class first organized in its sophomore year, guided us through the early trials of organization and gave able advice and assistance on all our problems. After his entrance into the Armed Service in 1942, he became our honorary sponsor; and now, in appreciation for all he has done for us, we dedicate this HANDLIAN to Sergeant C. D. Bennett of the U. S. Army Air Corps.

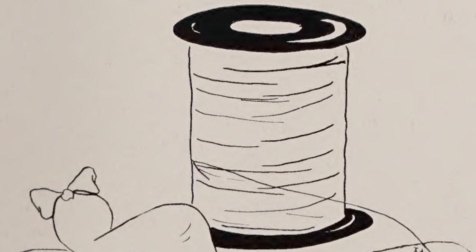
SENIORS



MRS. PEERY

For her eager, understanding guidance, her untiring effort in directing our Junior and Senior plays, and her consistent willingness to help, the Class of 1944 wishes to express its sincere appreciation and gratitude to Mrs. Peery.

MR. FRY

To Mr. Fry, who was responsible for the success of our Junior Stand, for the decorations of our dances and the scenery in our plays, and who was ever the cheerful friend of our need, we leave our heartfelt thanks.

HERITAGE 1944

These cornerstones on which the future rests:
The will to do one's best,
A basic knowledge, understanding heart,
Self-government, fair play, abiding faith,
An independence both in thought and deed—
Are Handley's gifts.

Tomorrow this foundation through grim years—
When on the soulless sea,
Or fighting jungle sickness, death by steel,
Cutting through the swamps and mountain snows,
Rousing nations not to war but peace—
Will strengthen each.

Senior Souvenirs

First week of school, remember? Everybody shaking in their shoes from fear of Mr. Browning, Handley's legend . . . he has such a fearsome reputation. Conversation like "Gee I didn't want to schedule him, but they say his classes are college work, and of course I ought to take him; but oh, he gives me the creeps." His first class left everybody feeling like a wrung-out dishrag. Isn't it amazing how you can get used to a person, even E. P. Never a dull moment, anyway.

Those football games . . . nice licking we gave Berkeley Springs. The others didn't turn out so well, but we were proud of the team because they fought like demons and the playing was as good as it's been in years. Our boys were heavier on the brain side than on the brawn. . . . How we did mourn when Gladstone got his in the ribs. . . . Irene was embarrassed when somebody found out she sent him a little bouquet . . . she needn't have been, because we thought it was darn nice of her. . . . Right about here she picked up that "Reno" moniker.

Lots of new Seniors too . . . Ethel Chrisman, who snapped up the Spanish Club presidency just like that; Zarling, the artistic genius; Coxy, that red-headed witch with journalistic aspirations from Upperville; Oglesby, whose eyes Mr. Browning says are so very expressive (after much study we've decided that E. P. is right, per usual); Wild Bill, the wittiest wit who ever hit Handley, who loves all the gals, but refuses to specialize; Annie Buckley, the good-lookin' tall gal with the Mississippi drawl. . . . Great personalities all.

Remember the party we gave for the Juniors? Hallowe'en, and strictly spooky . . . that long wait down in the dusty basement because, of course, there would be a blackout that night . . . pitch black halls, with eerie voices materializing out of nothing . . . oh, it was weird. And later it became not weird but wicked, when we spanked all the Juniors with an electric paddle. Mr. Fry's little innovation . . . we gave the hot seat to Mrs. Peery, and Mr. and Mrs. Quarles, and Mr. Browning too, and when Mr. Quarles bit the dust from the shock, it was wonderful, because the principal of a school seems so much more like ordinary mortals if he can actually fall down. This same time, place, and scene saw Lenora dancing a lovely waltz with Mr. Browning and we weren't at all astonished to learn later that she thinks he is a wonderful man. When we saw Mr. Quarles and Mrs. Perry do a remarkably jittery jitterbug, why that was the limit and there's nothing more to be said.

Through all these scenes wander Dottie and Pavey, looking harrasseder and harrasseder as press time draws near, the specters of their former selves. But they have a good staff, and there is really not much to worry about. Witness the Huge sign that flew in the main hall for a while. BUY A HANDLIAN NOW. That was a very neat sign.

Mr. Browning's room's assembly program. Boyd on the stage the whole time . . . he ate a sandwich, he read a paper, he lay down and took a nap, he changed his shirt, and performed sundry other this-is-hardly-the-place-actions.

But the show went on, and ended with a realistic touch when an Angel in uniform was doused with a bucket of water; real water, too.

The Brats, determined to beat the Angels, followed with some highly dramatic melodrama . . . Irene, the he-hawing villain; Aspacia as the very tipsy husband; and vivacious Peggy Wolfe, his ever-loving spouse, prancing around her three tubbing children, Baltimore, Washington, and New York . . . Margy and Judy in voluminous nightgowns, solemnly licking lollipops; Madame President's savage rendition of Redwing. Magnificent, even if the curtain did close too soon.

Remember how the boys were outnumbered? Three to one it was, with twenty boys and sixty-four girls, until Charlie Lanahan went off with the Army after Christmas. He left a big gap, being not only a Senior and a man, but also a swell guy. Boyd and Walter joined the Army Air Corps in the Fall, but they were able to finish school before going. We all were glad for that lucky break.

Will we ever forget how Judy flirted with Mr. Darst and swore he responded; how Mrs. Perry and Mr. Fry gave of their absolute utmost to turn us out in June thoroughly done on both sides; how Mrs. Solenberger made all her home room girls who had few advisory periods clean up her room one day with water and brushes and everything; how the girls worshipped and adored Mr. Fry and his lovely gray hair, and he unconscious of it all; and how poor, penniless Mr. Browning set the Glee Club up to cokes? Won't we always remember Nancy's beaux, and Keith's beauing; how Frank Eutsler used to look when the boys called him "Good Lookin'"; Arch's beard, which increased the look of Mephistophilis 'round that pointed visage; Hendrie going mad over her photography on one hand and pining for Doug on the other; Redfern constantly worrying over her infant, the Monitor Commission, which positively flourished under her care; Lucille W. and Gladstone, Handley's most beautiful couple, envied by men and women alike, and long may it wave?

And in the far, far future shall we still see Evelyn, calm and wise, and best dressed, the mama hen to whom all of the chicks ultimately ran; and Scott, busy and capable, who loved her piano, and who could miraculously run things to suit everybody; George, who headed the G. O. and had monitors on duty the very first day of school; will we recall the Literary Club and its ghastly first name, the Pilgrims in Progress with Pen and Palette, which afterwards made the members wonder where they had been when such a monstrosity was chosen?

So, Seniors, here are some of your last days at Handley, up to press time. Following is a tentative schedule of events for spring and commencement time. (Fill in your own dates and memories!)

ACTIVITIES

The Executive Council

The Executive Council, composed of student officers and student representatives, is the governing body at Handley. This Council, under faculty supervision, meets once a month to make the laws by which we, as a well-organized and well-governed student body, are ruled.

Honor Court

The Honor Court is the judicial branch of our Student Government. It is to Handley's student body what the Supreme Court is to the American people.

Nine judges who are appointed by the Principal and confirmed by the Executive Council compose the Honor Court. The duties of the Court are to try violators of the honor pledge and other cases referred to it by the Monitor Commission, and to decide on the constitutionality of the laws and regulations of the Executive Council.

Monitor Commission

The Monitor Commission is the enforcement agency of the Executive Council. It is responsible for seeing that the laws passed by the Council are obeyed. Its watchfulness, constant attention to its duties, and many efforts to secure student cooperation have greatly advanced the cause of Student Government at Handley.

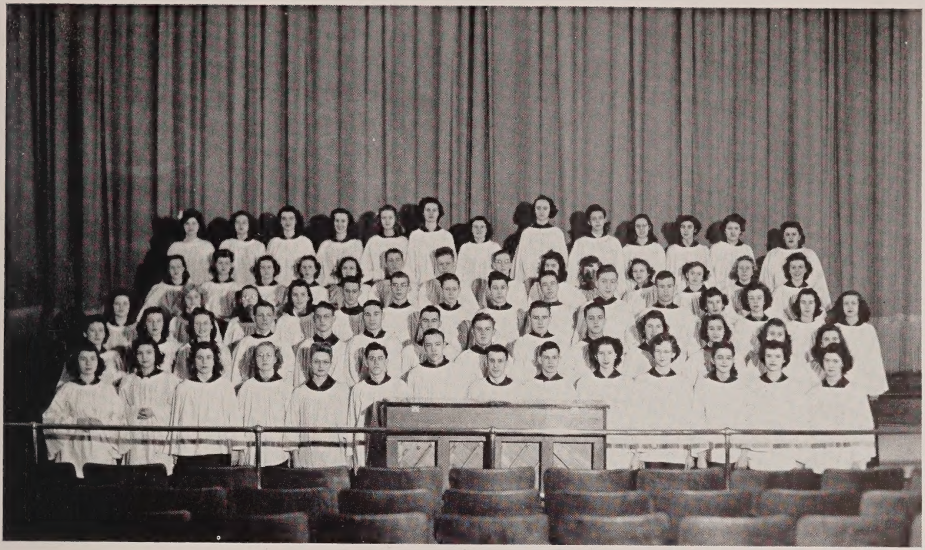
A Cappella Choir

The A Cappella Choir is composed of twenty-two members chosen from the Glee Club who, because of their musical ability, are able to do more specialized choral work than is ordinarily done in the larger Glee Club group. This year the Choir has given programs of sacred music on the radio and in local churches on several occasions.



The Glee Club

During war-time it is important that we keep up morale, and there is no better morale-booster than a song. Any student who has a clear voice and a will to sing may try out for the Glee Club, which, by its various concerts throughout each school year, has gained prominence in both our school and community.

The Handley Orchestra

The Handley Orchestra under the capable direction of Professor McIlwee has been noted year after year for its fine work and service in providing music for various school activities. Among these are the Senior Play and the graduation exercises. Before the war, the orchestra played also at numerous banquets and local affairs.

The Booster Club

Booster Stands For:

Publishing a weekly school paper;

Printing and distributing programs at Handley's football games;

Organizing a highly successful 1944 war stamp and bond auction;

Managing a semi-annual second-hand book store for students;

Cooperating in all school activities.

KNOWLEDGE + LABOR = PROSPERITY

Future Farmers have a real opportunity. The F.F.A. boys at Handley are preparing for leadership by having a live-wire organization which sponsors various activities affording training. Judging contests, literary contests, parliamentary procedure, athletics, and social activities make up a well-rounded program from which these boys are developing character and work habits of great value in later life.

Library Club

The primary purpose of this club, which was organized under the direction of Miss Payne several years ago, is to assist her as librarian. Working during their vacant periods, the girls stamp, put away, and mark books; straighten up the library; take care of the study hall slips; and do any other tasks required for the welfare and improvement of the school library.

El Circulo Espanol

Newly organized this year, our Spanish Club has two definite aims: that of promoting the study of Spanish at Handley, and that of interesting the entire student body in Latin-American relations.

To be eligible for membership, a student must retain an average of 90 per cent or over on Spanish for the entire year, and have a sincere desire to learn and appreciate Spanish contributions to the world of today.

Pen and Palette

The Pen and Palette was organized to encourage self-expression and for the development of literary and artistic talent. At the monthly meetings, drawings and writings handed in by all members are discussed, criticized, and filed. The outstanding pieces are to be published in a small book at the end of the year. For admission into the club any interested student taking Senior English must submit some original work to a committee composed of the club officers. Juniors who have done outstanding work will be asked to join at the last spring meeting.

Boys' Monogram Club

This organization was founded in 1925 with "Snag" Sargent, its present sponsor, as the first secretary. Requirements for membership and the privilege of wearing the "JH" monogram are the same today as they were then: a boy must have performed some service to the school for which he deserves recognition, or he must have played in one half the quarters in a season's basketball or football games.

Girls' Monogram Club

The Monogram Club has official charge of all girls' athletics, which include soccer, basketball, volley ball, badminton, and softball.

Requirements for entrance are the earning of 500 points by outside participation in these sports and a minimum grade of "B" on Physical Education. After the war it is hoped that the club will again be able to secure the "JH" sweater monograms which are a badge of proud membership.

To the Advertisers of Winchester

In spite of the exigencies of war, which result in a decrease of both time and finances, the advertisers of Winchester have nevertheless continued to cooperate generously with the Handlian this year, as in the past. To them we wish to extend our sincere thanks, for without their help and loyal support this book would not have been possible.

In order to show our appreciation we publish this Honor Roll, which indicates the number of years our honorary advertisers have appeared in the Handlian.

A MESSAGE FROM THE PRESIDENT OF O'SULLIVAN RUBBER CO., INC., TO THE GRADUATING CLASS OF HANDLEY HIGH SCHOOL

I WRITE this message to you because I sincerely feel that you young men and young women are a more intelligent and better trained group then the graduates of most of the high schools of America. This belief has been fostered by my relations with the Handley graduates who work with me in the plant and the office of the O'Sullivan Rubber Company.

I want you to know something of the background and policies of the O'Sullivan Rubber Company, and it is important to your future and to the future of the O'Sullivan Company that you do.

O'Sullivan's Rubber Heels and Soles are one of America's most famous products. They were the first rubber heels ever made . . . were invented by Humphrey O'Sullivan about forty-five years ago. At that time everyone wore leather heels and thought rubber heels were ridiculous. Almost the entire credit for introducing rubber heels in America goes to O'Sullivan. You can go to any city or town in the United States and ask the first ten people you meet to "name a rubber heel." The answer will be "O'Sullivan." Most of us who work here are proud of this fact.

Though the O'Sullivan Company does have a big name it does not have a "big head." The people who run this company have no delusions of grandeur. The suggestions and criticisms of those who work here have always been welcomed. There is no man or woman who does not receive all the opportunities to go ahead that we can offer.

It is our policy that every man hired, in our plant or office, have an opportunity to someday become the head of this organization. There is neither nepotism nor discrimination, and every man and woman employed here can, to the degree to which he or she is capable, make his or her own future.

The important positions of secretary to the president, secretary to the treasurer, and secretary to the plant manager are held by girls who graduated from Handley. The positions of Assistant to the President, Production Manager, Executive Paymaster, Assistant Sales Manager, Assistant Treasurer and Office Manager are held by former Handley graduates.

I tell you all this in the hope that the talented and ambitious young men and young women of this graduating class will want to work for the O'Sullivan Rubber Company. It is my hope that there will be positions in our plant and office for those who do apply. It is my hope and the hope of the O'Sullivan Rubber Company, that all the graduates of this class and every high school will continue to enjoy futures that are bright and successful.

Sincerely,
EARL BUNTING

CONGRATULATIONS!

Students of Handley High School

THE PROGRESS you have made this year confirms the faith America places in its younger generation. Ever strive to keep that faith. On you rests the responsibility, in a free America, of keeping the Future America Free.
